

Visiting Dublin Docklands

Within the process of the working out the detail plan for Andrejsala the working group visited Dublin in order to get more information about one of the most impressive regeneration projects in Europe. Project developers acknowledge themselves that the time what the project was started was one of the most depressive in Ireland. Actually the business rebirth was achieved by joining the state socioeconomic and business interests that in certain sense has been called as the phenomenon of Ireland.

The working group met with Mr. Peter Coyne, Director of Dublin Docklands Development Authorities, Ms. Mary Canvey, Director of the Development Department, Dublin City Council and Ms. Hazel Jones, representative of city developers company Ballymore Properties Ltd. during the visit.

It was extremely important for us to learn about the result – practically realized waterfront city development project.
